OPENING OF NEW PARLIAMENT

THE SPEAKERSHIP

CAPT. FITZROY UNANIMOUSLY RE-ELECTED

PREMIER AND "WORLD PEACE"

London, Yesterday.
The new Parliament opened today without ceremony, the proceedings being merely preliminary to the formal opening on July 2.
Today's business consists of the re-election of the Speaker, Captain Fitzroy.

Liberalism were very keen to stake their claims to seats, a number arriving last night, and the bulk of the Party before six a.m. The doors opened at eight.

Speaker's Qualifications
In the House of Commons the Labour Member, Mr. Gillett, in moving the re-election of Captain Fitzroy to the Speakership said that Fitzroy possessed the qualities of impartiality, firmness, and honour which had contributed to success in the Speakership in the past, and he would wisely guide the deliberations of Parliament, which were unique because elected under universal franchise and because its largest section was a new Party throbbing with life and energy.

Lord Hugh Cecil, seconded, and after Capt. Fitzroy's speech of thanks, Mr. MacDonald offered Capt. Fitzroy the homage of the House, heartily commending him to new members as being blind to Party and blind to personal choice.

Mr. Baldwin welcomed Capt. Fitzroy with confidence because democratic Government was on its trial in Europe and the world, and more than ever did the responsibility for its success rest with the British House of Commons and its chair.

Mr. Lloyd George, speaking on behalf of the smallest Party—"which especially needed the protection of the Chair"—heartily rejoiced in Capt. Fitzroy's re-election.

[Captain the Rt. Hon. Edward Algernon Fitzroy is a son of the 3rd Baron Southampton (deceased) and was born in 1869. He is Conservative M.P. for S. Northamptonshire. He succeeded the Rt. Hon. Mr. Whitely as Speaker last year.]

Adjournment
The House of Commons, after unanimously re-electing Captain Fitzroy as Speaker, adjourned until June 26, when the swearing-in of members begins.

World Peace
In his address at the Labour reception, Mr. MacDonald stated that he had had a second conversation with General Dawes and Mr. Hugh Gibson and that he was "hopeful—I won't put it higher than that."

Mr. MacDonald said he hoped that before many days he would be able to announce the method of the negotiations, the venue and the objects of the conference.

New Peer
The official "Gazette" announces that H. K. the King has conferred a Barony on Mr. Sidney Webb, who will be known by the name of Baron Passfield.

[Lord Passfield is Dominions Secretary in the new Government. This step will not necessitate a by-election as Mr. Webb was not a candidate at the General Election.]

Preliminary Proceedings
Before the business began at the assembly of the House of Commons, this afternoon, Mr. Baldwin rose from his seat on the Opposition Benches and held out his hand to Mr. MacDonald, the new Premier, who shook it warmly, as the ex-Premier congratulated him on his success at the Polls. Members cheered as Premier and ex-Premier walked together to the House of Lords where the members of the Commons went to receive the King's message.

On returning to the House of Commons, Mr. Gillett (Labour member) and Lord Hugh Cecil proposed and seconded the re-election of Captain Fitzroy (Conservative member for Daventry) who succeeded the Rt. Hon. Mr. Whitely as Speaker.

INJURED BY MOB

TWO BELGIAN RESIDENTS OF TIENTSIN

TRAMWAYMEN'S TROUBLE

Tientsin, Yesterday.
Two Belgian tramway officials, Mons. Rouffart and Mons. Gevels, were badly injured by a mob this morning.

Chinese agitators attempted to arrest three workers and a scuffle ensued when the foreigners objected.

Mons. Rouffart's hands were tied behind his back by the mob and he was dragged through the native city to the Police Station. He was ultimately released through the efforts of the Belgian Consul and removed to hospital where it was discovered that he had sustained a broken leg.

Mons. Gevels was taken to the Police Station, but was released later.—Reuter.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY

Mrs. Cecilia Maria dos Remedios—$3,200. She died in Macao on April 4, 1928, being survived by her husband, Mr. Eugenio Gonsalves dos Remedios, of Messrs. Douglas, Laprak & Co., five sons and six daughters. Her Hong Kong address was No. 4, Peace-avenue, Homuntin.

Moy Louie—$700. He died unmarried in Hong Kong in February, 1922 and letters of administration have now been granted to his father, Moy Gue-ham; merchant, No. 172, Des Voeux-road Central.

Li Yi-tin, retired merchant, who died at Sanwui city on June 2, 1928—$3,800. Probate granted to his son, Mr. Lui Chung-suen, comprador, No. 47, Caine-road, Tientsin.

Toussaint Victor Dewez, late of "Bonhaye," Williams-road, South Yarra, Victoria, Australia—$2,200.

conducted him to the Speaker's chair which according to ritual, he accepted with symbolic ceremonial.

Afterwards, Capt. Fitzroy thanked the House and was loudly cheered.

To-morrow the Commons will be summoned to the Lords to hear the King's approval of their choice and the rest of the week will be occupied with the swearing-in of members.

Next Tuesday business will really begin with the reading of the King's Speech.—British Wireless Service.

PARTY MACHINERY

Labour to Elect Advisory Committee

London, Yesterday.
As they are anxious to remove all suspicion that they are tied by the Party Executive, the Cabinet has decided to alter the machinery whereby Labour policy has hitherto been settled, namely, by a Parliamentary Executive which met weekly.

Henceforth an Advisory Committee, chosen by ballot, will replace the Parliamentary Executive, and will meet only occasionally, when it will be presided over by the Prime Minister.

At least this is one of the proposals to be submitted to the meeting of the Socialist Parliamentary Party to-day. It should be noted that eleven out of the former Parliamentary Executive are now included in the Cabinet.—Reuter.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Government and Boards of Guardians

CHANGE OF POLICY

London Yesterday.
The Ministry of Health announces that the Commissioners appointed by the last Government to superintend the Boards of Guardians in West Ham, Chester-le-Street (Durham) and Bedwellty (Monmouthshire), will be replaced as soon as possible.

BOMBS DROPPED ON HIS COMRADES

STRANGE INCIDENT

MEXICAN AIRMAN'S DESTRUCTIVE MISTAKE

INVESTIGATION ORDERED

Mexico City, Yesterday.
A Federal airman, while surveying a region in Barranex, bombed what he thought was a hostile body, but which was really Federal soldiers entrenched against a rebel attack.

Sixteen Federals were killed and 15 wounded.

The Secretary of War has ordered a thorough investigation.—Reuter's American Service.

JAIL BREAKER

CONVICT IDENTIFIED ON THE "TILAWA"

AWAITING AN ESCORT

The examination of the suspects, taken yesterday morning from the B.L. s.s. "Tilawa," who were narrowed down to two by the afternoon, has resulted in one of the convicts who broke prison in Singapore on March 25 being identified. Another man, who succeeded in satisfying his questioners that he is a bona fide law-abiding traveller, who is returning to China after a number of years in the Straits, was released.

The suspect, a young Cantonese named Lu Sin-kwon (24), is being held in Police custody pending the arrival of an escort from Singapore to take him back.

This man was a convict in the Criminal Prison at Sepoy Lines, Singapore, and was serving a term of ten years' imprisonment when he escaped with 12 others, the break-away from the jail causing a sensation in Singapore at the time.

Scars and Moles
It was learned that this man was identified beyond a shadow of a doubt; thanks to the fact that the local Police had on file his photograph and description, which was received from Singapore following the escape from jail in March.

The description of this man contained minute details of scars and moles which tallied with those found on his body.

The prisoner was stated to have mingled freely with the other passengers on the "Tilawa" and did not show any hesitation when he was put through the "combing" process, along with the others, by the local C.I.D. men on the ship yesterday morning. His self-assurance was undoubtedly due to the belief that the local searchers did not possess any means of identifying him. It is no doubt true that but for the possession of his photo and description in the possession of the Hong Kong Police, Lu would have got through unidentified.

Lu, who was stated to have been convicted of gang robbery for which he got ten years, was well dressed when seen by the Police on board the "Tilawa," and had the appearance of being above the coolie class, although he travelled steerage. It is a mystery how he succeeded in eluding the Singapore Police and boarding the ship.

The conviction is held at Police Headquarters that the other of the two men mentioned in the cable from Singapore, as suspected of heading for Hong Kong, did not board the "Tilawa."

CHIANG'S PROBLEM

REHABILITATION OF FENG'S TERRITORY

TAKING KUOMINCHUN OVER

Peking, Yesterday.
Marshal Chiang Kai-shek arrived here this afternoon and is staying at the Hotel de Pekin.—Reuter.

Shanghai, Yesterday.
According to a communique of the National Government, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's mission to Peking is mainly in connection with the problem of the rehabilitation of the North-western provinces, formerly under General Feng Yu-shiang.

Regarding the problem of the disposal of the Kuominchun, the Government says that its re-organization will be in accordance with the resolutions of the Military Re-organization and Disbandment Conference.

SIR M. SINGER

MYSTERY SURROUNDING HIS RECENT DEATH

INQUEST BEING HELD

London, Yesterday.
The inquest held into the circumstances attending the death (announced yesterday) of Sir Mortimer Singer, was adjourned for the analysis of the remains in consequence of the evidence.

Sir Mortimer never really recovered from the air-crash in 1910 in which he was involved.

He was found dying beside a glass containing white sediment.—Reuter.

[Sir Mortimer Singer, who was born at Yonkers, U.S.A., in 1863, was educated at Cambridge University and became a naturalized British subject in 1900. He was the eldest son of the inventor of the famous Singer sewing machine. He had been High Sheriff of Berkshire since 1921.]

FAIR TO SHOWERY

This morning's weather report states:
The anti-cyclone is situated in the Pacific to the east of Japan and has increased in intensity.

Pressure is relatively low over Tongking.

Forecast:—S. E. or variable winds, moderate; fair to showery.

NATIVE LABOUR

REGULATION & ORGANISATION DISCUSSED AT BRUSSELS

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Brussels, Yesterday.
A meeting of the International Colonial Institute discussed the question of the regulation and organization of native labour in tropical countries, and a resolution was adopted that the evolution of labour legislation ought to proceed in a manner corresponding with the degree of development of the native population. It could not, therefore, be uniform for all colonies, but must vary with each.—Reuter.

FRENCH DEMAND

Geneva, June 18.
The International Labour Conference held a debate on the report on forced labour, which embodied the demand of the French Trade Unionist, M. Jouxhaux, for a permanent supervisory body and also for an eight-hour-day for natives with the right to form their own organisations.

The majority of the members were against the abolition of forced labour for public works but favoured abolition in the case of private enterprises.—Trans-Ocean.

TO-DAY'S RAINFALL 0.38 INCH

1929 rainfall 14.37 inches

Average 36.83 inches

Deficit 22.46 inches

DON'T WASTE WATER

"CITY OF OTTAWA"

INQUIRY INTO THE RECENT CHANNEL-DISASTER

EXPERT EVIDENCE

London, Yesterday.
The Air Ministry's inquiry into the loss of the cross-Channel liner "City of Ottawa" has opened at the Law Courts.

Sir William Jowitt, K.C. (for the Air Ministry) said it had been proved that failure of the engine, which led to the forced descent, was caused by a fracture of the bolts holding the connecting rod together.

Major Cooper, Air Ministry Inspector of Accidents, said that a pair of studs on the port side of the machine had been "fractured in fatigue." The metal had no fault under ordinary "whistle stress," and the "fatigue crack" was primary the cause of the whole disaster.

There was no evidence to suggest that the bolts had been properly tightened, and all the internal parts of the engine were in excellent condition and adequately lubricated.—Reuter.

TO-DAY'S DOLLAR

The closing rate of the dollar on demand, to-day was 1/11 3/16.

CAPS' GOOD PROMISE FOR TEST

BOWLERS IN FORM

GODDARD FIRST TO TAKE 100 WICKETS THIS SEASON

MIDDLESEX STILL LEADING

Larwood and Tate of the bowlers, and A. M. Crawley (of Oxford) among the batsmen, were those of the twelve chosen for the Second Test Match commencing on Saturday against South Africa who shone in first-class cricket matches concluded at Home yesterday.

On the other hand, R. H. Catterall, one of the visiting stalwarts, all but accomplished the feat of a century in each innings.

The latest batch of county championship results keeps Middlesex in the lead although they suffered a partial reverse at the hands of Yorkshire. Derby (the dark horses of the season) and Lancashire (holders) drop. Nottingham came up to second berth; and Gloucester and Kent are joint third.

Goddard, the Gloucester professional, is the first bowler to take 100 wickets this season—that is, under the new conditions devised to give the bowlers more chance.

It appears that the bowlers are getting some benefit, if the overnight "honours lists" are any criterion, that of the bowlers being much longer than that of the batsmen.

There was a number of narrow victories, among these being one by nine runs and another by 30.

Results at a Glance
Gloucester beat Leicestershire by 82 runs.

Middlesex were led on the 1st innings by Yorkshire.

Lancashire lost to Nottingham by six wickets.

Hampshire beat Warwickshire by 9 runs.

Essex beat Somerset by 30 runs.

Worcestershire beat Glamorgan by seven wickets.

Surrey drew with the South Africans.

Sussex beat Cambridge University by nine wickets.

Derbyshire lost to Kent by an innings and 107 runs.

Northants lost to Oxford University by an innings and 121 runs.

Seven Centuries
Catterall (S. Africa) 124.

A. M. Crawley (Oxford) 204.

Woolley (Kent) 155.

Turnbull (Cambridge) 135.

Hardinge (Kent) 115.

Shepherd (Surrey) 113.

Bowley (Sussex) 105.

Bowling Honours
Freeman (Kent) 7 for 117.

Hill-Wood (Oxford) 6 for 24.

Goddard (Gloucester) 8 for 21.

Jackson (Worcester) 6 for 21.

Welland (Somerset) 6 for 47.

Barratt (Notts) 6 for 72.

Root (Worcester) 6 for 95.

Larwood (Notts) 5 for 34.

Tate (Sussex) 5 for 40.

Haig (Middlesex) 5 for 42.

Smith (Leicester) 5 for 41.

LAUNCH AT TAIKOO

MOTOR VESSEL FOR THE CHEUNG CHAU RUN

NAMING CEREMONY

There was launched from the Taikoo Dockyard to-day the twin-screw motor vessel "Sun Chau," built to the order of the Hong Kong and New Territories Ferry Co., Ltd., for service between Hong Kong and the island of Cheung Chau.

The vessel is 120' 0" between perpendiculars, 23' 6" beam and 10' 9" moulded depth, and has one complete deck with long bridge. Built to carry 300 passengers.

Electric light is fitted throughout, and all the necessary life-saving appliances are required by Government are being supplied and fitted.

Two "Gardner" Full Diesel Engines, each 152 B.H.P. are expected to give the vessel a speed of 11 knots.

The naming ceremony was graciously performed by Mrs. G. F. Hole, wife of Hon. Commander G. F. Hole, R.N., Harbour Master, and the vessel slid down the slipway, to float on an even keel amid the firing of "joss" crackers and the cheers of the crowd present.

At the premises of the Taikoo Dock office, a reception was held and the toast, proposed by Mr. K. E. Greig, Manager of the Taikoo Dockyard and Engineering Company, was drunk to the good luck of the newly launched vessel.

Mr. Greig thanked Mrs. Hole for graciously condescending to launch the vessel, which she had performed so fittingly—her first since her recent arrival in this Colony. She was presented with a gold brooch as a souvenir.

A toast, proposed by Mr. J. A. Fraser, District Officer, in honour of Mr. Li Yau-tsun, was then drunk.

The "Sun Chau," built at a cost of approximately $120,000, is the first of her class to be placed on the ferry service. We understand that if this scheme proves a success, six other ferries of a similar type will be constructed.

Mr. Li Chuen-ming, Managing Director of the Hong Kong and New Territories Ferry Co., was present at the ceremony.

FRENCH POLITICS

GOVERNMENT HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Paris, Yesterday.
The Government had a narrow escape of defeat arising from an interpellation regarding the Government's banning of the ex-Servicemen's demonstration against the payment of war debts.

M. Tardieu made the postponement of the interpellation a question of confidence.

The defeat of the Government appeared to be so certain that members were already discussing the recasting of the Cabinet.

A majority of only 25 saved the Government.—Reuter.

MAJOR OGILVY QUESTIONED ABOUT ACCOUNTS

RACKETS AT $1 A MONTH

Major G. M. H. Ogilvy, of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, who is on trial for alleged negligence of duties by a General Court Martial sitting in the Officers' Mess at Murray Barracks, concluded his evidence yesterday.

This morning he was cross-examined by Major Armitage, prosecuting officer. Accused was asked details of his accounts and the manner in which he carried out his duties as President of the Regimental Institute.

In answer to the prosecutor, accused said that he had always checked the paying-in slips with the items in the account books. Pressed again, and on the prosecutor suggesting that there might be a possibility of a counter-foil of the paying-in slip being torn away so as to provide no check, accused said that he had "looked" at the slips.

"Looking at Things"
This brought the rejoinder from the Judge Advocate (Mr. Somerset Fitzroy) who said that he had noticed that there had been too much "looking at things" among the officers in the battalion. He reminded accused that he had been asked as to whether he had checked the items and not whether he "had looked at it."

"Please answer the question in the way it was asked you," added the Judge Advocate.

Questioned about tennis rackets, accused said that he had brought a lot for sale among the men in the battalion. The rackets cost $10 each and Cpl. Hendry had instructions to accept instalments and to keep a record of such sales.

Case proceeding.

DIFFERENCES IN TWO VERSIONS

THE KWANGSI WAR

"HUNDREDS OF WOUNDED ON WEST RIVER"

HUNANESE RETREATING?

Wuchow, Yesterday.
The return of hundreds of wounded from the upper West River war zone indicates that the Kwangsi faction is not easy to overcome.

The Kwangsi faction's army under Wong Shu-hung is still holding Kweiping, it is believed.—Nan Chung Kuo News Service.

Canton Reinforcements

Canton, Yesterday.
The Hunanese troops supporting the National Government against the Kwangsi faction, after their defeat at Pinglo and Kweilin, have retreated from Kwangsi to Yungchow, in Hunan.

The Kwangsi faction troops are now marching towards Wuchow from three directions, one from Pinglo, one from Kweiping, and another from Jungyung.

Cantonese reinforcements are now going to Wuchow to support the pro-Government Kwangsi troops under Yu Tsok-pak, Li Ming-shu and Yang Teng-fel.—Nan Chung Kuo News Service.

Chumchow's Fate

Canton, Yesterday.
According to the latest telegraphic report from General Fan Sheng-sang, his (Yunnanese) army hitherto concentrating at Pinglo is now on the move towards Liuchow in order to co-operate with General Ho Chien to launch a general attack on the Kwangsi faction's troops holding that city.

A telegraphic report from Wuchow headquarters was received late last night by Canton headquarters that the Kwangsi remnants had already evacuated Chumchow and that the National troops had entered the city on June 25.

Due to the lack of communications, there have been conflicting rumours regarding the fate of Chumchow during the last few days. The fall of Chumchow is now confirmed.—Canton News Agency.

Kwangsi Giving Up

Hanoi, Yesterday.
The leaders of the Kwangsi faction, Wong Shu-hung, Pei Chung-hsi and his staff are taking refuge in French territory.

They motored from Longtcheou (Lungchow) via Langson to Hanoi, where they arrived on June 25, and intend going to Hong Kong.

Their departure seems to mean that the Kwangsi faction will abandon the struggle against the National Government.—Reuter.

ANCIENT ORDER

THE KNIGHTS OF
ST. JOHN

RELICS ON VIEW IN PARIS

The latest of the very interesting historical exhibitions which have been organised by the Bibliotheque Nationale in one of its splendid rooms in Mazarin's seventeenth-century palace in Paris has just been opened. It is concerned with the ancient and sovereign Order of the Knights Hospitallers of St. John of Jerusalem.

The claim of the Order to call itself "sovereign" rests upon the fact that for many centuries it possessed and ruled the island of Malta, just as, at an earlier period, it had possessed and ruled the island of Rhodes. Its foundation dates back to the year 1048, and its members were three things at the same time—religious dignitaries, soldiers, and helpers of the sick. The memory of the first of these functions is preserved in the fact that the Grand Master is still described as "most eminent and most reverend" in his title, just as the description of the members of the Order as "Defenders of the Faith and Guardians of the Holy Sepulchre" recalls the second. It is, however, the third function which alone continues actively to-day, and the present exhibition has indeed been organised to raise funds for a leper isolation ward, of which the foundation-stone was laid last summer by Prince Chigi.

The Malta Days

If the activities and powers of the Order are not what they were, it must not be supposed to have ceased to exist. Napoleon no more brought the Order to an end by occupying Malta in 1798—afterwards to lose it to England—than Soliman II did when he took Rhodes in 1522. Napoleon indeed recognised the continued sovereign existence of the Order by appointing, three years after he had taken Malta, a French diplomatic representative or minister plenipotentiary to represent him in his relations with the Grand Master; and although the importance of the Knights of Malta as a national Power cannot be said to be great to-day the Grand Master still has a Minister Plenipotentiary at Vienna and another at Budapest, thus carrying on a tradition under which his predecessors had never ceased to be represented at the Court of the Austrian Empire.

The present Grand Master, who is the seventy-fifth, is Prince Galeas of Thun-Hohenstein, and it is he who has lent what are perhaps the two most interesting exhibits. These are the ceremonial sword, or estoc de paleo, and the ceremonial cloak. The former is a fine two-handed sword, six feet long, of gilt and chiselled bronze, in form similar to the swords which were really used by the earlier crusading Knights, and can also be seen in the exhibition, and the other is an enormous cape of red velvet, embroidered in gold. Both were given to the Order by the Pope. There are also to be seen the swords and daggers presented in 1565 by Philip II. of Spain, the Philip of the Armada, and removed by Napoleon, who is said to have carried the daggers with him as talismans.

The "Langues"

These records of the glorious past of the Order may perhaps draw public attention to the fact that it also has a present, which, if not so glorious, is at least sufficiently flourishing. In the old days the branches of the Order in various countries were called "langues." Of these "langues," the Austrian and the Italian have never ceased to exist since their ancient foundation, nor to be directly subject to the Order, though certain sections of the Italian "langue" were suspended, but not abolished, during the early years of the nineteenth century. These two "langues" of the Order alone include two Grand Priors. There is also another ancient "langue," that of Spain, which, after having been detached from Order by a royal decree of 1802, returned to it in consequence of another decree of 1835, and is part of the Order to-day.

Apart from these ancient survivals, there are to-day flourishing associations of knights belonging to the Order in seven different countries, of which Great Britain is one. The others are Germany, France, Portugal, the Netherlands, Poland, and the United States.

Old Feuds Healed

It will be seen that all of these countries contain a considerable proportion of Catholics. And yet, although the organising secretary of the present exhibition in France is Robert Chauvelot, the son-in-law of Leon Daudet, a professor at the College of Social Sciences and certainly a Catholic, although other moving spirits are the Comte de la Rochefoucauld and the Comte Michel de Pierredon, the accredited representative of the Grand Master of the Order in France, the chairman of the committee, is a Radical-Socialist and therefore presumably anti-clerical Senator, Justin Godart, who has even been a member of the Government of the Republic.

So the old feuds are healed, and all opinions can meet in the charitable work which the Order of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem does to-day, and can remember that if they are no longer very important as monks and Defenders of the Faith, they still do their work as Knights Hospitallers.

UNLUCKY SINGERS

DIPLOMATIC PROTEST TO BERLIN

Warsaw.—The first diplomatic consequence of the assaults inflicted by German Nationalists on the members of a Polish opera company from Katowice during its visit to Oppeln, in German Silesia, is that M. Knoll, the Polish Minister to Germany, who has been in Warsaw for some days past, will return at once to his post with instructions to make an immediate and none too gentle demarche at the German Foreign Office. If the method of direct negotiation fails to settle the incident, there will presumably be an appeal to the Council of the League. M. Malhomme, the Polish Consul-General at Benthien, who was an eye-witness of the disturbances, has made an oral report to M. Zaleski, the Minister for Foreign Affairs. The members of the opera company have been required to make affidavits.

The Municipal Theatre at Katowice, to which the Polish company belongs, is shared with a German company, supported by the German minority, which enjoys the use of the theatre two nights in every week. The Polish management of the theatre has declined to receive an expression of regret from the director of the German company and has deprived the Germans of their rights in the theatre till further notice.

A procession of students marched through the streets of Warsaw loudly denouncing the authors of the Oppeln outrage.

Hostile Crowds
According to accounts of their experiences given by members of the opera company, they found on arriving at Oppeln that the streets were lined by hostile crowds.

At the entrance to the theatre, German Nationalist roughs were molesting persons who sought admittance. In the theatre stink-bombs were thrown from the gallery, and the police had to intervene and make several arrests before the performance could continue.

As a large crowd waited outside the theatre, the performers left by a side door in small parties and followed a circuitous route to the railway station. At the station the company was attacked by a mob of German Nationalists who belaboured them with sticks. All of them were bruised and bleeding and in several cases the injuries were of a serious character. The stage manager, after being cut about the face, was pitched out of a flight of stairs head foremost. The director of the company and his wife were knocked over the head with sticks. A member of the orchestra had an arm broken and was wounded in the head and knee. A member of the ballet was struck with some hard instrument in the small of the back and is suffering from serious internal injuries. Several of the women singers were taken to the train in a state of collapse. The instruments belonging to the orchestra were destroyed.

Immigration into Canada for the year ended in March totalled 167,722, an increase of 16,125 over the preceding year. It included 58,880 British, 30,560 Americans, and 12,806 Germans.

SPIRITUALISM

AND THE SURVIVAL OF PERSONALITY

"NOT GREATLY DIFFERENT"

Can Spiritualism be explained in terms of orthodox science? Sir Oliver Lodge believes that it can, and in a paper which he read before the Society for Psychical Research at the Central Hall, Westminster, S.W., he spoke both as psychicalist and as physicist, and attempted to reconcile the two points of view.

Briefly, his contention is that the recognition of ether as the tertium quid can correlate the two. "The problem of mind and matter," he said, "will not be solved until we bring the ether into account."

Matter, he said, did not act on matter directly; it acted through ether. Psychicists were not so far from orthodox science as was supposed; and he himself was convinced not only of psychic survival, but also of demonstrated survival, by occasional interaction with matter, in such a way as to produce physical results.

He admitted that the bounds of science would have to be enlarged and that human activities would have to be taken into account by scientists if the difficulty of formulating the spiritualist hypothesis in a scientific manner were to be overcome.

Not Fully Understood

We did not yet fully understand the phenomenon of weight and gravitation, he added; and yet we accepted them. Similarly, although exact knowledge as to the agency of psychical manifestations was lacking, that was not a reason for denying their scientific existence. "Ask a scientist what is a magnetic field," he said, "He can talk a lot and write a lot, but he cannot really explain it."

"I believe," he continued, "that we are immortal spirits in temporary association with matter; and that it is through this bodily isolation that we become individuals and acquire a personality able to adjust itself to new surroundings."

Perhaps the next world was not such a remotely dignified and continuously religious place as we had been taught to think. All the evidence was that it was not very different from this. Whoever it was who produced that world, produced this.

"I see no reason," he added, "to suppose that any existence in the future will seem to us entirely different. In so far as we remain ourselves we may expect other things to remain much the same too. I do not expect to be much surprised when I get there. I think it will be equally real and equally substantial, freer and less hampered, but not greatly different."

"BLACK WINTER"

INFLUENZA'S HEAVY
TOLL

London, May 27.

The first three months of 1929, with a bitterly cold spell and an influenza epidemic, represented the second worst period on record this century, so far as deaths are concerned.

According to the official returns for England and Wales, over 204,000 persons died, being 68,000 over the total for the corresponding quarter of 1928.

The death rate was 21 per 1,000, for 11.63 of which it is claimed influenza was the immediate, or a contributory, cause.

This rate was only exceeded in the first quarter of 1919, when influenza was again responsible for a death rate of 21.3 per 1,000.

Deaths exceeded births by 44,112, whereas there were 31,611 more births than deaths in the first three months of 1928.

The last quarter of 1928 saw 10,000 fewer persons married than in the corresponding quarter of 1927.

Washington, June 20.—The Federal Radio Commission to-day ordered that twenty radio channels be set aside for trans-oceanic press service.

At the same time the commission decided to reissue to Joseph Pierson, trustee of the American publishers' committee, construction permits for twenty channels reserved for the press for domestic communication.

HUSBAND'S RIGHT

WIFE TO LIVE WHERE HE CHOOSES

SCOTTISH DECISION

The question of a husband's right to require his wife to live where he pleased was raised when John Burton, aged twenty-eight, a butcher of King Street, Maxwelltown, Kirkcubright, Scotland, was accused at Lambeth Police Court of running away and leaving his wife chargeable to the Southwark Board of Guardians.

The defence was that Burton invited his wife to accompany him to Scotland but that she refused to do so.

Mrs. Burton, who lives at Nelson-square, Blackfriars, was called, and admitted that she refused to accompany her husband to Scotland, says the "Daily Express" in mail week.

She said in reply to the magistrate that her husband slept with a razor under his pillow, and she was not going to Scotland to be badly treated.

Mr. Sandbach, the magistrate, remarked that Burton could not be said to have run away and left his wife. If the wife's story that she slept with a razor under his pillow were true, she could apply for a summons for maintenance. The present charge was not proved and it must be dismissed.

Burton was then discharged.

LONDON'S POLICE

IMPOSING CENTENARY REVIEW
IN HYDE PARK

London, May 25.
Exactly a century ago Sir Robert Peel established the Metropolitan Police Force.

The centenary was celebrated to-day, when the Prince of Wales inspected 18,000 "Bobbies" in Hyde Park.

H.R.H., who rode down the ranks, was followed by Viscount Byng of Vimy and the Assistant Commissioners, mounted on white horses.

Subsequently, with drums throbbing and bands playing, the huge columns, which included 8,500 Specials and 50 Superintendents, marched to Buckingham Palace, saluting the Duke of Connaught opposite Clarence House en route.

The Prince of Wales, accompanied by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, took the salute at the Palace, where the women police and members of the Criminal Investigation and Special Departments were assembled.

Thousands of Londoners and hundreds of Provincial and foreign visitors lined the route.

The King sent the Home Secretary a special message of congratulation on the occasion, and the latter announced that three extra days' leave would be granted to the whole Force this year.

Three men were burned to death in an aeroplane crash near Los Angeles recently.

SEAMEN'S WELFARE

RECREATIONAL AND MEDICAL FACILITIES

The first annual report of the British Council for the welfare of the Mercantile Marine has been issued, and shows that already a good start has been made in providing recreation for the sailor temporarily in port, and improving conditions in the vicinity of harbours.

The Central Council state that their aim is to have a representative on the council from every local port committee, in addition to representatives from numerous other societies, and the objects in view are to encourage all schemes for the welfare of seamen, to promote the bulk purchase of sports material, &c., to co-ordinate any development of local facilities for recreation, and to consider the provision of funds for the welfare of seamen. Already there are recreation secretaries in 18 ports of the world, and at the small port of Ancona, for example, a recreation secretary, an Italian, has entertained the crews of several ships and helped them to organise football matches, &c., entirely unassisted. A list of these secretaries is printed in "The Seafarer's Chart of Healthy Manhood," which is issued in all ships of the British merchant navy. In home ports endeavours have been made to establish committees comprising representatives of all different interests. Such committees are in existence in the ports of London, Cardiff, Southampton, and Edinburgh, but unfortunately, the committees have not done much apart from the efforts of their individual members.

The expenditure entailed in taking the initial steps was met by a loan from the British Social Hygiene Council, and by the donation of the Prince of Wales, the Shipping Federation and the National Union of Seamen, and by a grant from the British Red Cross Society. The council state that it is essential that visits should be paid to each locality by representatives of the council in order to secure a right understanding of the aims and objects in view. In the coming year it is hoped to arrange for the establishment of co-ordinating committees in all the large ports of the United Kingdom and, perhaps, if funds permit, to send a representative to the most important foreign ports to stimulate local action on similar lines. Reference is made to the economical way in which the society has been managed, and the accounts show that with a total income of £1,245, there is a balance in hand of £642 on the period ended March 31, 1929.

SHIPBUILDING

LOW WATER MARK IN FRANCE

M. Pierre Forget, Minister of Public Works, in presiding at the launching of the Lafayette, the single class liner built for the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique for the Havre-New York service, referred to what he characterised as the shipbuilding crisis in France. In 1928, he said, only 15,885 tons were built in France for French shipping companies, whereas the shipyards were able to produce from 350,000 to 400,000 tons annually. The present year figure for French shipbuilding was 2,300,000 tons; this figure rose to 3,800,000 tons in 1922, but by 1923 it had fallen to 3,300,000 tons. This meant nevertheless an increase of a million tons as compared with the previous year, and the resulting transport of freight in French vessels represented a saving of five hundred million francs per annum. The abnormal increase in French tonnage after the war was found, however, to result in the present crisis in shipbuilding. Moreover, France as part of her deliveries in kind had received 73,000 tons from Germany up to date. These factors, unfavourable to shipbuilding, were fortunately only occasional, and indications were not wanting to show that 1928 was probably the low-water mark in the French shipbuilding trade, which was now showing encouraging signs of an improvement.

SHIPPING SECTION.

A PIONEER

THE "FATHER" OF LEEDS ENGINEERING

History shows that progress in engineering is largely a matter of co-operation, even when, as is so often the case, that co-operation is instinctive rather than intentional. While, therefore, as we have recently pointed out, it is unprofitable that discussion should range round the claims of this or that pioneer to priority in the invention of a particular engineering device, it is only right that those who have made outstanding contributions to the information of which so much use is made to-day should receive due acknowledgment. It is for this reason, rather than because he may have been the first to build a successful steam locomotive, that we are glad to see that steps have been taken to commemorate the work of a young man, Murray, who has been called "The Father of Leeds Engineering." This memorial is to take the form of the erection of tablets in Leeds and at the Institution of Mechanical Engineers in London, the provision of a prize fund for scholars at the Leeds Technical College, and the making of copies of Murray's models in the South Kensington Museum for the Leeds City Museum. Though £300 is still required to complete the whole memorial, it has been possible to erect a tablet on the wall of a factory in Water-lane, Leeds, which occupies the site of the Round Foundry, built by Fenton, Murray and Wood over a century ago.

This tablet, which was unveiled by the Lord Mayor of Leeds on Wednesday, May 8, consists of a bronze plate, on which are engraved a portrait of Murray with a brief history of his career, as well as a representation of the steam locomotive which ran on the Blenkinsop rack railway between Leeds and Middleton from 1825 to 1838. It may be recalled that as a young man, Murray commenced work with John Marshall, a flax spinner of Leeds, and soon afterwards succeeded in improving the machinery used in his employer's mill. In 1796, he joined David Wood in a workshop at Mill Green, where water power was used, while four years later he built a steam locomotive and started the works on the site of which the memorial has been placed.

Among Murray's inventions were the three-port slide valve, a screw-driven boring machine, and a metal-planing machine. He was also one of the first to carry out researches into the strengths of cast and wrought iron, making one of the early hydraulic testing machines for this purpose. After Murray's death, a number of workmen employed by him pooled their savings and, from their firm, now known as the Fenton, Murray and Wood, which had been running since 1838.—Engineering.

PORT OF HAMBURG

The port of Hamburg during the past ten years has exhibited one of the most striking examples of commercial vitality which it seems possible to conceive. Just before the war it handled only 1,000,000 tons of cargo, a level verging on 30,000,000 tons of shipping entered and cleared per annum, so that it ranked immediately after London and Liverpool as chief European seaport. The only near competitors on the Continent were, in fact, Antwerp, Rotterdam, and Amsterdam. In consequence of the naval blockade, which lasted from 1914 to 1918, this remarkable volume of overseas trade was depleted to vanishing point, and the shipping returns reduced to complete insignificance. The peace which followed the cessation of hostilities brought further misfortune. Transfer took place of the most notable ships of the mercantile fleets of the port to the Allies for competitive service against their former owners. Hamburg, deprived of its world-renowned leviathans, was left with a sorry remnant of its shipping and endeavoured to find a place again in the world's shipping activities.

But the indomitable spirit of the burghers, which indeed cannot be too much admired or too highly commended, has enabled them to overcome seemingly insuperable difficulties, and in spite of the handicaps of an exhausted exchequer and a depreciated currency, to resuscitate the overseas trade of the port and raise it to even higher levels than before. The pre-war tonnage of shipping has surpassed 1923, and in 1928 25,228 tons entered and cleared, and the returns have since gone on steadily increasing until in 1927 they reached 39,563,300 tons. This rapidly expanding volume of trade has naturally entailed a corresponding extension of the accommodation and facilities of the port for its reception and handling. Constructive works have been in progress for some time past to meet the demands which have arisen, and to make provision for the increasing requirements of the future.—Engineering.

The C.P.S. R.M.S. "Empress of Asia" arrived at Kobe on June 26 (Tues.) at 10 a.m.; left Kobe on June 28 (Thurs.) at 6 p.m.; and is due at Nagasaki on June 29 (Wed.) at 5 p.m. She leaves Nagasaki on June 27 (Thurs.) at 11 a.m. The P. & O. S.S. "Perim" left Shanghai for this port on June 25 at 5.30 p.m., and is due here on June 29 at about 6 a.m.

SOUTHAMPTON PORT

BIG DEVELOPMENTS AND FRESH FACILITIES

Big developments are proceeding which will make the port facilities at Southampton greater than ever for ship repairs are also being extended. It is doubtful even whether the present facilities for ship repairing at Southampton are fully realised by ship owners throughout the world.

The port possesses the largest floating dock in English waters, the largest dry dock on the South Coast, other dry and wet docks and cranes with extensive plant for repairs of every description to hulls or machinery.

Another point is that the Cunard, White Star and other big passenger lines using the port generally concentrate their attention upon the overhauling and repairs of their vessels into the winter months from November to March, as a result of which the ship repair facilities are only partially busy during the other eight months of the year.

PLEASE DON'T WASTE WATER

For example, the Cunard liners, "Mauretania," "Aquitania," and "Berenaria" all passed through the hands of Messrs. John I. Thornycroft & Co., Ltd., official contractors to the Cunard Steamship Co., and were thoroughly overhauled with many structural alterations prior to their 1929 sailings. The attention to the latter vessel included the fitting of a new 33-ton stock, and 55 ton rudder in addition to considerable interior alterations.

All the labour and plant for this work is provided by Thornycroft, and it will be easily understood that the latter requires to be very extensive, the lifting gear alone running into several hundreds of blocks and necessary tackle.

While the work on these vessels was in progress some 2,000 men per day were employed and not only had the whole of the work to be executed to the complete satisfaction of the Cunard Co.'s engineers, but also had to be carried out to a strict time-table to ensure it being completed in time for the advertised sailings.

All these resources are available for quick repairs by the Thornycroft Repair Works to any vessel calling at Southampton, and ship owners would find it beneficial to bear in mind the advantage of availing themselves of these facilities during the summer months for preference.

RAPID DISCHARGE

There was a notable instance of quick discharge in the port of Liverpool when Messrs. Res. Ltd. unloaded a cargo of 3,383 tons of phosphate rock in barges from the steamer "Porthcawl" at the company's Jetty, Birkenhead. The four cranes worked from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. and the average turn-out was 423½ tons per hour.

AS AIR FORT

A NEW CAISSON FOR LEITH

At a meeting of Leith Dock Commission, Mr. Thomas Cowan, L.L.D., presiding, a letter was read from the Civil Aviation Department, the Air Ministry regarding the establishment of a Customs air port at Leith. It was stated that the proposed landing area was within a radius of a nautical mile from the end of the West Pier. The Commission were asked to provide a caisson, and facilities required for embarking and disembarking passengers. The matter was left in the hands of the Works Committee with powers. The Chairman made reference to the retirement of Mr. Alexander Hood, collector, after 53 years' service. Mr. Hood, he said, had been an outstanding personality. He had seen a great evolution in dock business, and his counsel had been of inestimable value. A new caisson of the ship type, which has been designed and constructed to the order of the Leith Harbour and Dock Commissioners for the Prince of Wales Graving Dock, has just been launched by Messrs. H. Robb, Ltd., Leith. The caisson, which has been built under Lloyd's special survey, the scantlings being greatly in excess of their requirements for their 100 A. class, is of the following dimension:—Length 76ft., breadth 23ft. and depth overall 29ft. It is divided into seven watertight compartments, four of which are ballast tanks.

A large pump, to deliver 375 tons of water per hour (Messrs. Allan's "Conquer" single-section vertical spindle centrifugal type) is fitted in a large pump-room, and the motor will work by electric current supplied from the Commissioners' shore mains. The upper deck forms a roadway across the top of the caisson.

The work has been carried out under the inspection of Mr. Alfred H. Roberts, C.E., engineer and manager to the Leith Dock Commissioners.

PLYMOUTH PORT

ITS FACILITIES AND ADVANTAGES

Interesting details of the facilities which Plymouth Harbour can offer to the shipowner, the merchant, and commerce generally are contained in the following article culled from the British Coasting and Near Trades Shipowners' Association circular:—

Plymouth is the gateway into England from the ocean. Famous for centuries as the port of departure for maritime adventure to all parts of the world, it is now the most convenient port of arrival for passengers to England and to Europe. Its geographical position at the entrance to the English Channel, together with its sheltered position, make it a natural anchorage on this side of the great ferry between America and Europe.

Plymouth Sound, where the ocean liners anchor, is a deep and broad harbour, protected by a mile long breakwater, where a whole navy may ride out the fiercest storm in perfect safety. It is the easiest harbour on the coast to make and the services between America and England, via Plymouth, have been reduced to almost the minute exactitude of a railway time-table.

Passengers landing at Plymouth take advantage of the shortest sea passage. They avoid the voyage through the narrow and turbulent waters of the Channel to the more easterly ports and save many hours on the journey to London or, indeed, to any part of the British Isles.

Between Plymouth and London the finest railway service in the world has been developed by the Great Western Railway Company. The journey of 225 miles is accomplished by its daily routine trains in just over four hours, and the special ocean mail non-stop expresses, which run on arrival of the liners, often do it in a shorter time. The facilities for reaching the Midlands, the industrial North and Scotland from Plymouth are also superior to those of any other route. A direct northerly service, via the Seven Tunnel, is provided by frequent and well-equipped trains.

The Ocean Liner

The service of the ocean liner in the port of Plymouth by commodious tenders specially designed for conveying passengers directly to the trains on the docks has been closely organised and the interval between the arrival of the ship and the departure of the train reduced to the absolute minimum.

Adjoining the pier are spacious waiting- and refreshment rooms and baggage examination warehouses. After the Customs examination of their baggage, passengers board the train, which is directly alongside. Passengers who desire to save time, above all things, find the process of getting through the Customs expeditious, the facilities for obtaining information ample and the troubles usually attending landing in a foreign country almost non-existent.

Over 70 liners, from all parts of the world, now call annually at Plymouth to land or embark passengers or mails. Every up-to-date convenience is provided for the comfort of passengers and mails, and an expeditionary mail by an electric conveyor, delivering the mails direct from tender to train.

The advantages of Plymouth as a port of call for ocean liners are being increasingly recognised. The westernmost of the large ports on the south coast, and this, combined with the Great Western Railway Company's excellent train service to and from London and other parts of the country, enables a substantial saving of time to be effected on the total sea and rail journey.

There are a number of dock authorities within the port catering for all classes of vessels and all descriptions of cargoes. These dockowners are as follows:—The Great Western Railway Company, owning the Western Docks, situated on the western side of Plymouth Sound; the Southern Railway—Ocean Quay, Devonport; the Cattewater Quay, Ltd.; the Sutton Harbour Quay and the Victoria Wharves, owned by Messrs. Coast Lines, Ltd.

The last three mentioned dock companies' premises are situated in the Cattewater on the eastern side of the Sound. Here the Coast Lines, Ltd., deal with the extensive cargoes brought by their various coasting services, and the extensive oil and fishing trade of the port is dealt with.

Regular cargo steamship service are maintained between Plymouth and Amsterdam, Antwerp, Belfast, Bordeaux, Bristol, Glasgow, Gothenburg, Greenock, Guernsey, Hamburg, Jersey, London, Liverpool, Nantes, Oslo, Rotterdam, Southampton, St. Brieux, and Waterford. Different steamship companies, including all the principal steamship lines, maintain regular passenger steamship services between Plymouth and every part of the world. The Great Western Docks, which are the principal commercial docks of the port, form one of the chain of great docks which make the Great Western Railway the world's greatest dock owners. The approach from the sea and Plymouth Sound is particularly easy and vessels using the docks have not only the shelter of the docks but the advantage of the condition of safety provided by the great breakwater.

Quays and Wharves

The docks consist of an outer harbour of about 30 acres entered direct from the Sound without any locks, and an inner basin of 13 acres. The entrance to the inner basin is 80 feet wide with a depth of 20 feet, and is provided with two pairs of gates. In the outer harbour, which is provided with wharves, piers and a pontoon, the depth of water available is 28 feet L.W.O.S.T., providing deep water berths for the largest cargo steamers. In the inner basin the depth of water varies from 17 feet to 26 feet.

The quays are excellently equipped with hydraulic, electric and steam cranes for the expeditions handling of cargoes. The wharves are served by the railway, allowing cargo to be put direct on rail and vice versa, and ample accommodation for free and dutiable goods is provided. There is a 25-ton crane available for heavy lifts.

Plymouth is a favourable shipping point for imports and exports from the south-western districts of England. Additional dock facilities are in hand and are contemplated which will further enhance the value of the port to the shipping and trading communities.

COAL TRADE

WHAT IS BEING DONE IN SOUTH WALES

Although clearances of coal are being maintained on a high scale, colliery salesmen are experiencing difficulty in securing new orders, with the result that prices have developed an easier tendency for practically all grades. This is due to increased outputs of coal, which now run to over 1,000,000 tons per week, and to a shortage of shipping, a factor which upsets the arrangements of colliery proprietors and shippers. In the past week 625,750 tons of coal and coke were shipped at the Great Western Railway South Wales docks, which was 12,000 tons more than in the preceding week, and represented a total which has only been exceeded on four occasions this year. At Newport exports were raised from 107,000 tons to 118,860 tons; at Barry from 187,500 tons to 192,610 tons; at Port Talbot from 29,800 tons to 30,260 tons; and at Swansea from 68,000 tons to 82,650 tons, but at Cardiff reduced from 158,700 tons to 150,150 tons, and at Penarth from 62,200 tons to 51,220 tons. It is reported, but not confirmed, that the Egyptian State Railway contract for 180,000 metric tons of coal has been divided between Messrs. Tabb and Burston and Messrs. Wm. Milburn and Company, at 28s. 6d. and 29s. 9d. per metric ton, c.i.f., delivery at Alexandria during the next four months. The Brazilian Central Railways are also in the market for 200,000 tons of coal. During the past week most of the collieries were idle for a day owing to the Labour Day stoppages, but in spite of the consequent loss of output, supplies were sufficient to meet requirements. Best Admiralty large coals were easier at 28s. 6d. to 21s. with mouthpieces from 18s. 6d. to 20s. dry large 19s. to 20s., and smalls from 12s. to 13s. 9d.—"Engineering."

HONG KONG TIDE.

The tide-table given below has been obtained by aid of the Tide-forecasting Machine, which includes 40 components for the better prediction of tides, from the result of the analysis of the tidal observations, taken at the Kaulung tidal observatory under the direction of Dr. Doherty during the years 1897, 1898 and 1899.

The times and heights are given for Kaulung; but they may be used for the Victoria Naval Yard and Aberdeen, the differences being very small. The times of high and low-water will not be considered to coincide with the times of slack-water and change of current, the two phenomena being quite distinct.

MOROCCO DISASTER

LOCAL COMMANDERS FREED OF RESPONSIBILITY

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Paris, Yesterday.
During a debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the Aitakub disaster in Morocco, M. Painlevé, Minister for War, said that the situation had been completely restored. The local commanders were entirely free of all responsibility for the reverse. He denied there was any question of a general advance into the Atlas Mountains. The policy of peaceful penetration was still being applied.

The Chamber adopted a vote of confidence in the Government by 347 votes to 207—a majority of 140. Reuter.

MEERUT TRIAL

FURTHER EVIDENCE OF MOSCOW'S INTERFERENCE

PROCEEDINGS "STAYED"

Meerut, Yesterday.
Plans for a general strike throughout the country, which was to begin on May 1, 1929, and a long letter from Moscow, giving general instructions were among the incriminating documents of the conspiracy trial.

The defence filed an application that the case be transferred elsewhere.

Proceedings were stayed until July 9.—Reuter.

"DRY" AMERICANS

U.S. EMBASSIES &amp; LEGATIONS' ATTITUDE

PRESIDENT'S APPEAL

New York, Yesterday.
The action of General Dawes in refusing to serve wine in the United States Embassy in London, according to Press reports, is interpreted in some quarters to indicate that all United States Embassies and Legations may go "dry" in deference to President Hoover's appeal for a more exact observance of the law by United States citizens.

This is in spite of a legal opinion that United States Legations are not affected by the Eighteenth Amendment of the Volstead Law.—Reuter's American Service.

PEACE TREATY

INCREASING TENSION WITH HUNGARY

Budapest, June 19.
There is tension between Roumania and Hungary as a result of the intensified agitation in Hungary for ratification of the peace treaties.

The Roumanian Press generally demands an invasion of Hungary and seizure of the Theiss line, while the "Epoca" speaks of a march on Budapest.—Trans-Ocean.

RUM-RUNNING

INTENSIFIED DRIVE AGAINST SMUGGLERS

Washington, June 20.
A warning was broadcast to-day by Seymour Lowman, assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of Customs, Coast Guard and Prohibition Services, to the effect that the Government intends to press its efforts until smuggling along the Canadian border finally ceases.

He commented upon a report that smugglers had fired upon U.S. Customs agents.

That shows what desperate characters are the men we are fighting," he declared, pointing out that criticism of recent "prohibition killings" fail to take this fact into due consideration.

The incident shows, Mr. Lowman insisted, the necessity for arming federal agents as a measure of self-protection.—United Press.

TRAIN COLLISION

FIREMEN AND SURGEONS' PERILOUS CLIMB

New York, June 20.
Thousands of pedestrians on Sixth Avenue watched the perilous climb of firemen and surgeons up perpendicular ladders, following the collision of two trains on the elevated railway yesterday in which one person was killed and several were injured.

The passengers on the trains were extricated amid choking and blinding smoke arising from smouldering insulating materials.—Associated Press.

Five persons, four of whom were members of one family, were killed and eleven injured in a head-on collision between a motor-car and an omnibus near Elkhart, Kansas.

If the recommendation of a Government commission is acted upon, Limburg Castle, part of which was recently destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt in its original form.

FLOODS IN BURMA

WIDESPREAD DESTRUCTION IN AKYAB DISTRICT

MANY LIVES LOST

Rangoon, Yesterday.
The recent floods in the Akyab district cover 100,000 acres of food supplies and the seed grain of 10,000 families has been destroyed. Several thousand cattle were drowned.

A launch, caught in a storm on the Kuladan River at Akyab, sank and of the 80 people on board 58 were saved. Another launch had nine passengers washed overboard and eight saved.—Reuter.

"SOUTHERN CROSS"

TO START ON ANOTHER TRIP TO ENGLAND

VIA SINGAPORE

Sydney, Yesterday.
Captain Kingsford Smith, the "Southern Cross" flyer, left in his machine at 2.24 p.m. to-day on a non-stop trans-Australian flight to Derby, en route to England, via Singapore, Calcutta, Karachi and Bagdad.—Reuter.

Audrey Boomer banged out a 61 for eighteen holes in the French international tourney at St. Cloud, France. In order to accomplish this feat, Boomer, shooting his home course, had to make six birdies and two eagles. He was out in 33 and came in in 28, ten strokes under par.

RIOTS IN VIENNA

Vienna, June 20.

The authorities have ordered the temporary closing of the university, following riots by a group of students caused by the expulsion of three ultra-nationalist students whose colleagues attempted to enforce their re-admission by assaulting the non-nationalist students and professors.—Trans-ocean-Kuo Min.

What defies the Might of Man?

Science has conquered the air, the sea, and the Kingdom of microbes, until Man has become Lord of all Creation. But there is one thing that has so far defied the might of man and that is pain. We cannot get rid of it altogether, but we can at least soothe it, rob it of its terrors, and numb its torturous fangs. "Veramon" the magic tablet, will help to do that.

"VERAMON" is a world known pharmaceutical product of Schering, Ltd. of Berlin. It dispels all pains like magic, such as Headache, Toothache, Stomachache, Backache. Ask your chemist for a small tube and you will be surprised at the results.

News has been received that the Hon. George F. Stanley, Governor-designate of Madras, is due to arrive in Bombay on Oct. 24 by the same boat as Lord Irwin. He will arrive in Madras on Oct. 26. Viscount Goschen sails for England from Bombay on Oct. 24. It is therefore clear that Sir Norman Majorbanks will act as Governor of Madras.

In January next, Malaya will have a visit from Miss Marianne Mills, Girls' Work and Religious Work Secretary of the World's Y.W.C.A. staff, whose headquarters are in London. Miss Mills and the other members of the staff are constantly investigating one country or another, and the expenses of travel are borne by the total membership of the movement throughout the world, thus linking all together in mutual helpfulness.

The "North China Daily Mail" recently said: "The increasing number of scarlet fever cases in Tientsin attracts attention once more to the abominable condition of some of the dairies which supply the town with milk. The authorities controlling or neglecting to control these establishments are various and the dairy methods equally so. Dairies, next door to laundries, with dairy cattle drinking soiled water, and dairies mixed up with pony stables and village cess-pools are bad enough, but one of the worst evils is the practice of milk delivery coolies who may be seen opening sealed bottles and sucking at the contents, or pouring out into other bottles so as to make a squeeze. The labels are then replaced and the bottles delivered sealed to consumers. The upshot of the matter is that those who consume dairy milk take a risk that ought not to be run. Some of the dairies are comparatively free from reproach, but who knows?

The U.S. Senate Immigration Committee voted to defer action indefinitely on President Hoover's proposal to postpone or repeal the "national origins" clause of the Immigration Act.

The Viva-tonal Columbia

THE DIFFERENCE between an ordinary gramophone and the Viva-tonal Columbia is the difference between clouds and sunshine. There is no comparison, for scientific research has yielded many new secrets now embodied for the first time in the Viva-tonal Columbia. In TONE and VOLUME there is no gramophone to compare with it. ## ANGLERS START

TREK TO NORTH OF CANADA

GOOD CATCHES ALREADY

Algonquin Park, Ont., May 14.—In spite of backward weather conditions anglers are coming into the Algonquin fishing lakes and streams from all parts of the continent, according to reports reaching here from the wardens and rangers at different sections of this great playground. Weather continues cold, and consequently fishing conditions are not at their best. However, within another week, with warmer weather likely, there is every reason to anticipate good speckled and lake trout fishing beginning about May 24.

At the present time several parties are out on the streams and lakes in the north end of the Park, with H. T. Clarke, operator of Highland Inn. Mr. Clarke has organized an anglers' outfitting business for the early part of the season to take parties into the interior of the park during the late spring months. He is now out with a party of United States fishermen in the Kioskogui district and the party will fish and canoe their way across to Highland Inn in the course of the next week or ten days. Almost every Canadian National train traversing the north end of the park carries fishing parties destined to one or another of the stations adjacent to good fishing waters, where guides and outfitters are waiting to take the anglers out on the streams.

In spite of cold weather some fairly good catches of speckled trout are being reported in the larger streams and in the lakes, but since there is yet plenty of food in the streams for the fish, they are not rising well and will not do so much before the end of this month. Lake trout are being taken at various points in the park and the first warm spell should bring conditions along to the point that the most ardent angler could desire.

A Portuguese petty officer is reported to have demonstrated before the Naval Council a means of saving the crews of wrecked submarines and of bringing the submarines to the surface.

There are stated to be 50,000 Germans in the French Foreign Legion, and a society has been formed in Berlin by former members of the legion to help men who desert.

SCOTTISH FOOTBALL LEAGUE CLUBS

Mr. William MacAndrew, the secretary of the Scottish League, is not the only one who considers that the clubs are carrying an unreasonable burden in players' wages. The annual meeting of the League is to be asked by St. Johnston to pass an alteration in the rules which will give the clubs the right to retain a player to whom an offer of £150 per season is made. The present figure is £200.

The proposed reduction may appear revolutionary, but the fact remains that almost every club in the League is in the unpleasant position of having to report a loss on the season. The clubs of the Second Division are feeling the pinch, even more, and East Stirlingshire are coming forward with a proposal that an offer of £60 per annum should entitle a club in that Division to retain a player.

Rangers £8,600 Profit

In view of all this there is something extraordinary in the fact that we find the Rangers reporting a profit of £8,616.

PLEASE DON'T WASTE WATER

and paying dividend of 10 per cent. Not only so, but they have paid £23,000 towards the cost of their new grandstand.

How is this to be explained? Why is it that one club should be in a position of financial luxury when others are groaning under the pressure of financial loss?

Rangers, to start with, had no special advantage over their rivals. They had to begin at the bottom like the rest. They have had to face more than one crisis. Like the others, they had to begin all over again after the War, and they had suffered more than some by their players having to go into khaki.

Secret of Success

During the war period Rangers won only a single League championship. Since 1919 they have won eight. There must be something more than luck in it. It is suggested that the secret is simply this: directors, manager and players all pull together. The happy family atmosphere is maintained as far as it is possible to maintain it where men of different temperaments are concerned.

The whole history of the Rangers club tells of the spirit of enterprise, which, in many ways, compels success. When they set out to build the new grandstand and enlarge Ibrox Park at a cost of between £50,000 and £70,000, people wagged their heads ominously, but now that the huge scheme has already justified itself everyone is agreed that enterprise, with a spice of daring thrown in, pays in the end.

What Scotland requires is more of the happy family spirit and greater all-round enterprise. One Rangers is not enough. We want a lot of them, and there is no reason why we shouldn't have them, making all allowance for geographical differences.

Celtic have placed William McStay and James McFarlane on the transfer list. The fee asked for McStay is £1,000, but it will take more to acquire McFarlane.

Dumbarton are now in debt to the tune of £2,994 7s. The gates have been far from satisfactory, and something will have to be done to curtail expenses. The Supporters' Club are doing all they can to help.

At the National Sporting Club, Kid Nicholson, a well-known bantam-weight, and Guy Bonaguri, a Frenchman, were ordered out of the ring by Mr. Eugene Corri for not trying.

The larger and lighter golf ball, which the Royal and Ancient have rejected, is to be used in America after January 1, 1931. This may make things awkward in international competitions.

HOME TURF

WARNING BY THE JOCKEY CLUB

The action of the Jockey Club stewards in issuing a stern warning to a professional owner, the chief patron of a great jockey who has just become trainer, was still a subject of comment in all circles in mail week.

Without judging the merits of any particular case, general satisfaction is expressed that the responsibility for the running of horses should not be deemed so often to lay chiefly with the trainer and the jockey.

It is also felt strongly that this line of action should be extended to every type of owner, even a patriotic member of Jockey Club, who may never even bet on the horses which are trained for him in the most fashionable establishments.

This would help to stimulate many wealthy patrons into keeping a closer watch than may be the case at present on the running of their horses.

Blunt Statement

A prominent bookmaker of long experience said to a correspondent of a Home paper: "We know two particular owners who are straight-minded men in their racing ventures, but we have seen their horses perform at Newmarket and, as bookmakers, we know that before long each of those two unplaced horses of theirs will be strong market orders, and probably win."

"General and irresponsible accusations of pulling horses," he added, "are harmful, and I am particular to state that in their case was a horse actually stopped openly from winning, but what I term 'getting a good horse ready on a racecourse' is open to abuse, and a policy certainly not to be recommended to a small owner and trainer who wants to avoid interviews later on with acting stewards."

There have been other incidents at Newmarket which have set tongues wagging. The decisions of the judge are frequently criticised, and will continue to be because of the deceptive angles on the broad course.

The climax was reached when players and backers alike saw the number of Lord Derby's favourite Grazzio go up instead of that of Mr. J. B. Joel's Black Spot in a short-hand finish.

SPORTING CRICKET

LESS PREPARATION FOR COUNTY WICKETS?

We may not have the ideal weather for cricket yet; but the cricket has been ideal, says the "Sporting Life." It seems apparent, from the happenings on some grounds, that heed has been paid to the appeal to county clubs not to overprepare their wickets. The Lord's wicket, for instance, has received little preparation, apart from thorough rolling. The result has been much more sporting games at headquarters this season than for a long time past.

The big thing in recent games was the stand of 368 for the first Sussex wicket by Bowley and James Parks. On only nine previous occasions has this figure been surpassed in an opening partnership, and never by Sussex batsmen. Bowley's great innings of 280 not out, made in the amazing short time of four hours, is the highest ever played for the county, beating by one run the 279 of the immortal "Ranji."

Killick's Century

Yet, in its way, the brilliant century obtained for Middlesex by E. T. Killick was not less great. Killick did not go in until six wickets had fallen for 61, but he smashed the South African bowling all over the field, and incidentally made the first individual hundred against the tourists. Following so close on his 200 not out for the Light Blues against Glamorgan, this places Killick among the foremost of our amateur batsmen.

One match was finished, Northamptonshire won a remarkable game with Glamorgan by 103 runs 27 wickets falling during one day's play for 289 runs. Vallance Jupp, of course, had a big hand in his side's victory, capturing 11 wickets for 81 in the two innings. But young Jack Timms also played his part nobly with a masterly 47.

A century by Leyland got Yorkshire out of an awkward situation at Leyton, for Holmes and Sutcliffe were out with only 18 runs scored. Gallant little Emmott Robinson also had a hand in the recovery.

Kent's failure against Nottingham Trent Bridge was rather surprising, although they were handicapped by the loss of Freeman, who was in bed with stomach trouble.

Surrey again owed much to their captain, Mr. P. G. H. Fender. Losing four wickets for 60 odd runs in their second innings, they seemed to have lost their advantage over Warwickshire. But Fender once more hit bravely, and the crisis was passed.

Miss Helen Jacobs, second ranking American player, is off for Europe to reinforce the American continent of tennis stars who are invading European courts this summer.

Walter Hagen, left, captain of the U. S. Ryder cup team, receives the cup emblematic of the British Open championship from A. W. Robertson-Durham. This was the Hagen's second consecutive victory and his fourth win. He entered in the Yorkshire Evening News tourney, only to be defeated by George Duncan, British Ryder cup captain, on the eighteenth green, when Duncan sunk a forty-foot putt.

OLD SEA-DOGS

WHEN PIRATES LAY AWAITING

Brave days on the Seven Seas, when East and West India merchantmen were regularly baited by pirates and a voyage in a cutter was a real adventure, are recalled by the announcement that a receiving order has been issued against Samuel Dobree and Sons, merchants and bankers, of Moorgate, E.C.

Since Samuel Dobree started the business in 1721 the firm has carried on throughout eight reigns. It is among the oldest in London, and Samuel Dobree and Sons was one of the original companies that fought to establish the sugar, rum, and cocoa trade with the West Indies, and the Indian fibre trade.

When Samuel Dobree first sent ships to sea he could never know whether or not they would come back. His cutters were armed to the teeth, and their crews were trained in the use of weapons. A merchantman laden with sugar from the West Indies might have to fight five or six battles with pirates, privateers, or foreign ships of war before she could bring her cargo safely into Southampton (Southampton) or some other British port.

A Channel Capture

Among the early papers, of the firm is a letter to another firm dated August 27, 1742. It narrates the sailing of the "Daniel Piton" from Guernsey to Southampton in company with three or four more vessels, and goes on:

"When about half-way hence (Guernsey) they were taken by a Spanish or French pirate row-boat, and a small boat from hence to Alderney saw three of the above sloops taken by the said pirate, who brought them to. And this small boat was also chased near two hours, but happily escaped by a thick fog."

While some of the early adventures showed a very good return on the money invested, as is seen from the old ledgers still in the possession of the firm, some were naturally anything but profitable in their results.

Though a receiving order has now been issued, the firm will carry on business.

The King of Italy has conferred on Major W. Stormont, manager of the Italian Travel Bureau in London, the Order of the Crown of Italy in recognition of his services to Italy.

Intensely cold weather prevailed last month in West Germany and Cologne, and parts of the Rhineland were swept by snowstorms.

This year's American Davis Cup team seen younger players than have been in the team for some years. Big Bill Tilden and Little Bill Johnston had so dominated the tennis world that this young people have had a hard fight to get recognition. Now they are having their day. Fritz Morer (left), John Hennessey (centre) and Wilmer Allison (right), all just over the college age, are seen here in Montreal practising hard for the first round of the Davis cup matches with Canada.

Zeppelin's Flight After Repairs?

The above map graphically depicts the gallant fight against elements which the Graf Zeppelin made after four of her five engines were crippled while flying over Spain en route to the United States. After two engines failed Dr. Hugo Eckener ordered the ship to turn about and head for home. Two more went dead on the way and with only one working the eighteen passengers and crew of the giant airship found themselves drifting helplessly over France toward the Mediterranean. Only the tremendous efforts and skill of Dr. Eckener saved a catastrophe when the Graf finally was landed at Cuers, France. New motors were rushed to replace the damaged ones and the Graf proceeded to Friedrichshafen. It is believed that the fight to the United States will be tried again after the repairs are made.

Second Flight Fails

Attempting his second flight to the United States, Dr. Hugo Eckener, lower left, was faced with the supreme test of his flying career when the engines of the Graf Zeppelin failed and the giant ship was forced to fight tremendous gales over France and make an emergency landing at Cuers. One thousand miles of the trip to the United States had been completed without incident when the failure of two motors forced a return. The crippled ship slowly made her way over France and near Lyons, shown top, encountered high head winds which threatened to blow her over the Mediterranean. At the right is shown the tail fin of the Graf and the damage done by the storm during her first trip across the Atlantic.

YESTERDAY'S SOLUTION

A WEEK'S DISEASES

During the week ended June 22 the following notifiable diseases were notified:

Disease	Cases	Deaths
Small-pox	1	0
Diphtheria	3	2
Enteric fever	7	3
Cerebro-spinal fever	2	1
Influenza	2	2

There was one British case of diphtheria and two Japanese cases of enteric fever; the rest were all Chinese.

On Monday one fresh case of enteric fever was notified—an imported Chinese case.

The police of Holland, Michigan, have issued an order against smoking by high school girls in public.

LEGAL SENSATION

MAY ONE KISS A SOLICITOR?
SIGN OF INSANITY

The makings of a very important test case, which one would like to see taken right to the House of Lords, have just arisen at Cheltenham. The point involved, which concerns the layman as well as the lawyer, is this: "Is it a sign of insanity to kiss a solicitor?"

The point is to be taken seriously because it is a solicitor who has raised it. In explaining to the Cheltenham magistrates that a client of his seemed to be in scarcely a normal frame of mind he explained that she was very anxious to kiss him and he added, "If that is not a sign of insanity, I don't know what is."

And yet it seems a strange test and one that has not hitherto been recognised by the Commissioners of Lunacy. Are we to understand that to kiss any or all solicitors, anywhere and at any time, is a certain symptom of insanity? Hardly, because in that case no solicitors would ever become married men, a state of affairs which is contrary to common observation and the natural history of a by no means negligible species.

Again, there are now solicitors of both sexes; would it be a sign of mental abnormality to want to kiss a very young and very pretty solicitor? And what happens if a male attorney wishes to kiss a female representative of the species; can that be done without suspicion of insanity? In that case, why may two solicitors do with impunity that which one solicitor and one layman may do only on peril of being regarded as mentally deficient? The whole subject bristles with "intriguing" aspects which obviously deserve the attention of the highest legal authorities in the land.—Manchester Guardian.

"NO SMOKING"

BAN BY ONE WHO THINKS IT "UNBUSINESSLIKE"

Does smoking during working hours cause slowness? Mr. S. R. Windle, Grimsby's municipal engineer, thinks it does, and he has stopped it among the men in his department.

The wisdom of this decision was questioned by members of the Council. Mr. Windle made this reply: "I consider the practice unbusinesslike. I do not like to see men sprawling, with their backs against the railings, lighting pipes or cigarettes. Smoking during working hours is a relic of the war days. 'The best workmen, I find, do not smoke at work. In my experience smoking at work tends to slowness and the amount of lost time it causes is astonishing.'"

Dame Emilie Charlotte de Bathe (Mrs. Langtry), of Villa le Lys, Monaco, who died on February 12 last, wife of Sir Hugo Gerald de Bathe, Bart., left property in her own disposition valued for the purposes of the English grant at $47,445 in net personality. Her bequests included:—

To the Museum of St. Helier, Jersey, her suite of dining-room painted furniture, her drawing-room settee, and eight Louis XVI. chairs, and Louis XVI. cabinet, the portrait of herself, by Sir Edward Poynter, her bust of Diana, and certain bedroom furniture, hangings, etc.

$10,000, Villa le Lys, Monaco, and its contents and her personal effects not otherwise bequeathed, to Mathilde Marie Peat, "as a token of affection and gratitude."

The residue of her property is left equally between three grandchildren and Major Louis D'Albani.

FOR THAT TIRED FEELING

When you begin the day feeling tired, low-spirited, irritable, looking sallow and out-of-sorts, it usually means that your liver is out of order or your intestinal tract is not working efficiently. To correct this condition nothing is better than Pinkettes, the dainty little laxatives and liver regulators. Try them to-night, you'll feel ever so much brighter, better, more cheerful and efficient to-morrow morning. Of all chemists, or post free, 60 cents per vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kiangsee Road, Shanghai.

BEST SINCE DAYS OF THE DOHERTYS

"BUNNY" AUSTIN

DEFEATS TILDEN'S PARTNER AT WIMBLEDON

BRITISH TENNIS THRILLS

London, Yesterday.
In defeating (in the second round of the men's singles in the British lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon) F. T. Hunter of America (who is Tilden's partner at doubles), H. W. ("Bunny") Austin has been hailed by critics as the greatest Englishman since the days of the redoubtable Dohertys. Austin is only 22 years old, yet he exploited every known stroke in the game and displayed both confidence and sureness. He was deservedly applauded by the packed stands.

It was this British-American duel and the first appearance of the women in the first round of their singles (but they have not been brought on to the centre court yet) that attracted a better crowd than on the first day.

America suffered another setback in addition to the defeat of Hunter. Van Ryn, who has a victory over Tilden to his credit, was beaten by Brugnon.

The principal results of the second day follow:—

Men's Singles (2nd round)

H. W. Austin (the British international player) beat F. T. Hunter (America) 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Coen (America) beat Robbins (South Africa) 6-1, 6-1, 7-9, 6-1.

W. T. Tilden (America) beat C. H. Campbell (Ireland) 6-1, 6-2, 6-0.

C. H. Kingsley (Britain) beat Kleinschroth (Germany) 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Bousous (France) beat G. R. O. Crole-Rees (Britain) 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Allison (America) beat Cooper (captain of tennis at Oxford University) 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Raymond (South Africa) beat L. L. Bruggon (France) 6-3, 6-3, 6-0.

O. G. N. Turnbull (a member of the British team in the Davis Cup) beat G. P. Hughes (another British Davis Cup player) 1-6, 6-4, 7-5, 6-0.

Loit (America) beat Borman (Belgium) 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Women's Singles (1st round)

Miss Helen Wills of America (holder of the championship) beat Miss Tomblin (Britain) 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Helen Jacobs (America) beat Mrs. Neave (South Africa) 6-0, 6-3.

Miss Barbur (France) beat Miss Jenny Sandison (champion of India) 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. M. Watson (Britain) beat Miss Colyer (Britain) 7-5, 6-2.

Mrs. Mallory (America) beat Miss De Smidt (South Africa) 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

Screens on Fire

Earlier.

The buffet screens at Wimbledon caught fire shortly before play today and a number of women in the vicinity had their dresses ruined by water.—Reuter.

COMING HERE

FRENCH AIRMEN TO RETURN VIA HONG KONG

Bangkok, June 18.

The French airmen Capt. Arrachart, and Capt. Rignot, left this morning for Saigon.

They will proceed to Hanoi, Hong Kong and Shanghai, and return to France via Siberia.—Straits Times.

A great strike in the Ruhr coalfield, affecting 350,000 miners, is threatened, as the miners have decided to reject the wages award.

CHINESE NEWS

GENERAL'S AGENT TO BUY MOTOR TRUCKS

SEAPLANES TO BE TESTED

Hong Kong, Yesterday.

A report in Chinese circles states that an agent of General Tang Seng-chi (commanding the National troops in Hupph) is now in Hong Kong, seeking the purchase of 150 motor trucks.

Two seaplanes imported from abroad, intended for the Yunnanese Government, will be tested in Canton.

The s.s. "Chung On" plying between Hong Kong and Swabue, has resumed service. She left Hong Kong for Swabue on June 24.—Nan Chung Kuo News Service.

Chief of Aviation

On the invitation of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, General Cheung Wai-chiang, Chief of the Canton Aviation Administration, has left Canton for Nanking. There were present at the station to see him off a number of high officials, among whom were Admiral Chan Chak, Mr. Li Yang-chien (Chief of Staff) General Chan Hing-wan and others.

In an interview with General Chan Hing-wan, who is now the acting Chief of the Aviation Administration, our correspondent was given to understand that General Cheung would be appointed Chief of the Aviation Administration at Nanking; so the possibility is that General Cheung may remain permanently at Nanking, and will not return to Canton as generally expected by his friends.

Wuchow Aerodrome

Due to the recent troubles in Kwangsi, the construction of the Wuchow aerodrome had been suspended for two months. But realising the necessity of a flying field for aerial operations, the authorities have given orders for the resumption of work day and night.

Swatow Bank Re-opened

The Swatow branch of the Central Bank, which was closed during the last two months on account of the trouble, was re-opened yesterday morning. Before retiring from Swatow, the pro-Kwangsi troops, under Chui King-tong, forcibly took away from the bank a large number of its notes, so that the notes in the hands of the public are limited; hence the notes went up in value yesterday.—Canton News Agency.

BOOT-SHOP SWINDLE

In a report to the Police yesterday, two Chinese named Chau Kung-hop, of No. 10, Waiching-lane, and Chui Tsui-shi, of No. 56, Waiching-lane, alleged that on June 8, a man whose name was not known to them, induced them to take a $200 share each in a boot shop which the man represented that he was about to open in Hillier-street, West Point.

The man has not been seen again since the day the money was handed over to him.

LUTHERANS AND THE VATICAN

PROTEST TO HOOVER

FEARED VIOLATION OF HISTORIC AMERICAN'S PRINCIPLE

RUMOURS DISCREDITED

River Forest, Illinois, June 20.

Laymen of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod to-day sent a resolution to President Hoover in which they protested against the possibility of opening diplomatic relations between the United States and the new "Vatican State."

To open such relations, the laymen declared, would constitute a violation of the historic American principle of separation of Church and State.—United Press.

[There have been persistent rumours of intention on the part of the United States Government to open relations with the Vatican State since settlement with the Government of Italy was achieved by the Pope, but they are discredited in well informed quarters.]

The World Almanac for 1929 says that the Holy See maintains diplomatic relations with Austria, Bavaria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, Hungary, Japan, Jugoslavia, Latvia, Lithuania, Monaco, the Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Roumania, Spain, Switzerland and most of the American republics except the United States, Cuba, Mexico and Uruguay.

Pact With Mexico

Mexico City, June 20.

Prayers were offered throughout Mexico to-day that the Pope would speedily approve the accord which has been reached by Archbishop Flores, the Papal Ambassador, and President Emilio Portes Gil.

The accord is expected to heal the breach which closed Catholic churches throughout the country and brought on virtual warfare between Catholicism and the Government under former President Calles.—United Press.

Pope's Departure Postponed

Rome, June 20.

The first departure of His Holiness the Pope from the Vatican, which was originally scheduled for June 24, has been indefinitely postponed. Difficulties regarding the ceremonial of the meeting between the Pope and the King of Italy are reported to have caused the postponement.—Transocean-Kuo Min.

"MUCH ADO," ETC.

SIR E. HOWARD AND SENATOR BORAH

STATE DEPARTMENT KNEW

Washington, Yesterday.

Officials of the State Department have disclosed that the Department was fully informed beforehand of the conference between Sir Esme Howard and Senator Borah, Sir Esme having followed the usual diplomatic procedure in notifying the Department.—Reuter's American Service.

Cause of the Trouble

Saturday's cables stated: "Highly unusual" is the official comment on a visit paid by Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, to Senator Borah, which has caused much comment in the Press because it is believed that they discussed naval disarmament and closer British-American relations.

It is customary for the representative of a foreign Government who is desirous to communicate with a member of the Congress on public affairs to arrange such exchanges through the State Department; and Sir Esme Howard's alleged disregard of this rule has, it is reported, displeased White House, especially as Senator Borah is at present persona non grata at White House, owing to his bitter opposition in the Senate to President Hoover on the farm relief and tariff issues.

Storm in Tea Cup

The storm in a tea cup subsided, however, when Mr. H. L. Stimson, Secretary of State, informed the Press that no question of diplomatic propriety was involved; adding that Sir Esme Howard had called on him (Mr. Stimson) to-day to deny a newspaper report that he had discussed the freedom of the seas with Senator Borah.

A "Dry" Talk

According to the "New York Times," Sir Esme Howard and Senator Borah had a talk limited to a friendly discussion of Prohibition, a subject in which both are interested.

GRAF ZEPPELIN

WORLD CRUISE TO BE STARTED NEXT MONTH

Friedrichshafen, June 18.

It is reported that the Atlantic flight of the Graf Zeppelin has been temporarily abandoned.

Preparations are being made for a world cruise, to start at the end of July.—Trans-Ocean.
